

Nepal Warranty for 400G Enterprise-Grade Optical Router

AI Overview

Enterprise-grade 400G optical routers in Nepal typically come with manufacturer-backed limited warranties, including hardware replacement and technical support, with local service handled by authorized distributors.

Cisco ASR 9000 Series 400G Routers

The Cisco ASR 9000 Series 5th Generation 400 Gigabit Ethernet line cards are designed for high-density, multi-rate Ethernet networks and are compatible with multiple ASR 9000 chassis models . Cisco provides limited hardware warranties for these enterprise routers, which generally cover defects in materials and workmanship. The warranty includes:

- Hardware replacement for defective line cards and modules.
 - Technical support via Cisco's support channels.
 - Compatibility and upgrade guidance for chassis, fabric cards, and cooling systems.
- In Nepal, these routers are typically distributed through authorized resellers like Network Store, which can provide local warranty support, RMA processing, and onsite assistance if included in the service contract .
