

Price of complete power distribution box equipment

AI Overview

The cost of a complete power distribution box system ranges from $100 for basic residential units to over $15,000 for high-capacity industrial setups, with installation and accessories adding significantly to the total.

Residential Distribution Boxes

For standard residential applications, plastic or thin steel enclosures with 60A-125A capacity typically cost $100-$500 for the box alone. Including professional installation, wiring, breakers, and permits, the total project cost usually ranges from $800 to $1,800 depending on amperage, number of circuits, and labor complexity . Typical components include the main panel, circuit breakers, bus bars, and cover plates .

Commercial and Industrial Units

Commercial panels for offices or retail spaces, often made of cold-rolled steel with 200A-400A capacity, cost $800-$2,500 for the enclosure. Industrial-grade boxes for factories or plants, with 600A-1200A+ capacity and heavy-duty steel construction, can range from $3,000 to $15,000 or more, depending on internal components, surge protection, and weatherproofing . Outdoor or weatherproof units generally carry a premium due to corrosion resistance and IP-rated enclosures .

Temporary and Jobsite Power Boxes

Portable or temporary power distribution boxes, often used on construction sites or events, vary widely:
